Unusual Value—In Tires
for Small Cars

Not only is characteristic Goodyear merit conspicuous in Goodyear Tires for small cars but ordinarily the first cost is found to be not greater, than that of other tires; often it is actually less.

The combination of unusual value in first cost and very low final cost, of course, is a result of Goodyear experience, expertness and care employed as insistently in the making of 30x3-, 30x3½- and 31x4-inch tires as it is in the construction of the famous Goodyear Cord Tires used on the highest-priced automobiles.

For this reason more cars using these small sizes were factory-equipped last year with Goodyear Tires than with any other kind. Get this unusual tire value to enjoy on your Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell, or other small car, at the nearest Goodyear Service Station. Get these tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes at this station.

30x3½ Goodyear Single-Cure

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes are thick, strong tubes that reinforce casings properly. Why risk a good casing with cheap tube? Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost little more than tubes of less merit. 30x3½ size in water—$3.90 proof bag.

MAXWELL
Has Won Its Following Through Its Quality

POUND for pound, the metals used in the Maxwell chassis compare favorably with those in the best cars that the world has produced, according to metallurgists.

There is a deep seated reason for this quality in a Maxwell.

For the fundamental purpose of the Maxwell is to carry the same passenger load over the same roads and at the same speeds as larger and more expensive cars.

Its particular mission is to carry this passenger load in an extremely economical way.

Therefore the Maxwell had to be light. But to make it strong as well as light only the very best of materials could be employed.

Hence, the quality metals.

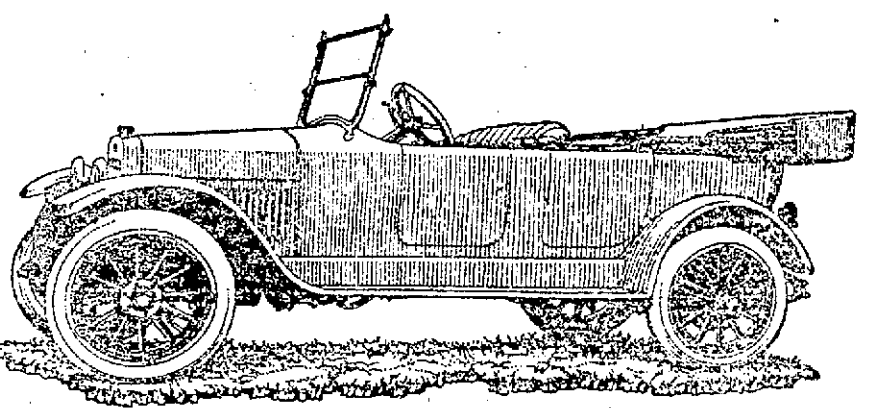

And it was through the quality of its metals that Maxwell developed its following.

This is a following that began five years ago with a foundation of 5,000, and now reaches a mark of 100,000 in 1920.

300,000 Maxwells now on the highways of two continents are a daily endorsement of the merit of this great car.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON
Letters May Be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: What is your opinion on the "Mother Love" question?
Oh, mother! women! why don't you give your children more love which they are so hungry for?
I am only a girl in the early teens but how often I wish I could go to my mother with my little school troubles and small troubles that come in the life of every girl and boy. Girls and even boys are hungry for mother love. I know very well that mother loves me as all mothers love their children, but they are not their friends as they should be.
Many girls marry young, thinking they will receive this love from their husbands, but alas, this love must come from their mothers first.
How often I have wanted to tell mother things, but I would almost rather go to my teacher (even if he is a man) and tell him my small every-day troubles in and out of school.
Mothers, please be friends to your daughters, and sons also.

LET A GIRL.
We are living in a transition period at present. The woman of yesterday, who stayed at home and thought of little outside, is giving her place to the woman of today who is no longer to shift her responsibilities in the outside world to her husband. Naturally as women are being placed into a new being, she loses her close touch with the older generation.

I believe the lack of understanding between the two generations comes from the fact that you do not believe she will understand your problems. This may be quite true. There are a few fortunate of the older generation who have the faculty of keeping aside with the times to the extent that there is a close bond between the two generations. The children with such mothers are indeed fortunate.
Do not be afraid to tell your mother the things you long to believe she will understand better than you think she will. This longing is at least teaching you a lesson because it will make you more sympathetic with your own children when you have them.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: We are two girl friends and we used to go with two boys whom we liked very much at that time. Now we are going with two other boys who live in this town.
The boys we recently went with do not live here. The boy my girl friend went with still thinks a lot of her and sends her presents. The boy I went with still writes to me but not as often as I would like to have him. Please give us your advice.
My chum wants to know what to do about her other fellow. She does not want to go with him.
I want to know what I can do to make my boy friend write more often. He cannot come to see me and her friend can.

TWO CHUMS.
Your girl friend has the privilege of dropping the young man. He should no longer permit him to call or accept presents from him since she does not enjoy his company.
If you answer the boy's letters when they come there is really nothing more you can do. Do not, however, write so often that he becomes tired of the correspondence.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: There are four girls about my age, fourteen and fifteen, who are getting up a skating party. One of the girls is asking the boys who like, but my friend is not mentioned. I told her who I wanted and she said it was all right. How can I ask him if he would like to go?
Tell the boy that you and the other girls are getting up the party. Say, "Would you like to go with me?"

BACTERIN TREATMENT OF THE FLU
Throughout the duration of the epidemic of respiratory infection, called the "flu," conflicting reports were made by doctors in different parts of the country concerning the effect of vaccines or more properly bacterin in preventing and curing the disease. Since the identity of cause of the "flu" has not been determined, it still remains a matter of speculation—and a wonderful amount of speculation is indulged in by physicians and laymen alike.
We know that the "flu" is a respiratory infection, that in most cases several germs are present, that the influenza bacillus is present in only a few cases in one community and not at all in another community. It is not fair to say that we know any more than that about the nature and cause of the "flu."

Had I contracted the "flu" at any time up to the present I believe I would have varied advice without bacterin treatment. I know I did not subject myself to vaccination against the disease, since I had sufficient faith in the efficiency of the vaccine and a suspicion that such an attempt at immunization might possibly reduce my immunity to the disease. Now, however, I believe I would want bacterin treatment for the "flu," being so influenced by the opinions of physicians in various parts of this country and England.
Dr. W. H. Wynn, reported in the London Practitioner a series of 107 consecutive cases of influenza treated with bacterin, with only ten deaths. The bacterin contained equal numbers of Pneumococci, Streptococci and Bacilli of influenza, and the dose was given from eighty to one hundred million of each of the three microbes. He declares that 71 percent of the patients injected with bacterin on the first day of the illness had normal temperatures within twenty-four hours; the percentage of those injected on the second day was 41; and with each day's delay in the administration of the vaccine or bacterin the beneficial effect seemed to diminish markedly.

A recent report in the American Journal of the Medical Sciences by Dr. Dudley Roberts, who did not adopt the vaccine treatment until October, 1918, lends weight to the opinion that the bacterin treatment is valuable. This student of the subject concluded that good results are assured only when the dose of bacterin is administered directly into the veins and is followed by rest, consisting of a child or a chilly sensation follows half an hour after the injection, along with an increase in the pulse rate and sometimes a slight fall in the temperature. Dr. Roberts believes that it is a minor matter what the exact composition of the bacterin shall be, but whatever microbes enter into it, he urges an initial dose of one billion into the vein and several billions if the injection is given merely under the skin. Following the child or chilly sensation the temperature shoots up sharply in the reaction. Then it tends to come down below its original height and stay down; more so after the second or third dose. Doses are given daily.

DAD! YOUR HAIR IS FALLING FAST
"Danderine" will check that ugly dandruff and stop hair coming out
The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night with a soft brush; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.
You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be soft, lustrous, glossy, silky and long, and look and feel a hundred times better.
You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

Combining Won't Rid Hair Of Dandruff

She Married an Average Man

By ZOE BECKLEY.

"Continuing our lecture on the turning points in my life, Ann, was the high of our Evie." "How, then, dear?" "John," she answered briefly. "John had had a hard struggle. He was disappointed. He had gotten in with some undesirable companions. He was gradually losing interest in me and in our home—we were bitter poor. Evie made a new man of him. Her tiny baby self fascinated him. Her helplessness amazed and arrested him. And I did the rest," finished Anna, with a grin and a shrug. "I know for an absolute fact that she has made her husband."

"You think if we had a kiddie it would draw him and me closer together?" I asked. "I know it would. Jim is an old-fashioned man; not a modern type of thinker. Besides, men are usually of children. Perhaps it's because they have so easy a part in their horning and rearing! But why ever it is, most men like them. Sometimes think men care more for youngsters than women do now-a-days. Anyway, Jim's the type of man made for dadhood. A boy who would smear his immaculate face with molasses and crawl down his back would be a real humanizer to the old-fashioned sort of family, a dozen or so."

"Well, I should say not! What do you take me for, a child? But that isn't another story, as friend Skilling says. Won't his six o'clock must run. John's bringing home some men for dinner." (To be continued.)

Penny per Child Is Asked To Install Victory Chimes

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.

New York, Jan. 20.—Every child in America will be asked to give at least one penny toward the erection in New York of a set of "victory chimes" which will ring out in daily reminder of the sacrifices made by Americans in the war. It was announced today by the newly organized Victory Chimes and Carillon Association.

The plans call for a series of 48 bells—one for each state in the union on which will be played daily a victory anthem composed for children. "The Star Spangled Banner," and "America," the 49th bell will be the largest bell in the world would be sounded only on the inauguration or death of a president of the United States.

SAMSON SQUEEZES MADISON FIVE OUT IN LAST MINUTE

(By Frank Sinclair.)

In a spirited final round of appeal, throwing the visitors off their guard, the Samson tractor basketball team squeezed out the Speth five of Madison on the armory court here last night, 20 to 19. The game dragged along slowly all through the evening with Samson trailing. With the crowd yelling for the local boys to show some pep, the tractor put a field goal just as the clockkeeper put his whistle to his mouth to end the contest.

Up until the final minutes of play, Samson showed a distinctly poor style of basketball. From the outset they were left in the lurch by the Speth team. Acing and dragging, the tractor boys looked like dazed, bewildered creatures to the spectators. Their greatest fault was in bunching their men on their opponent's defense. This reason they could have made baskets but lost out merely because the Samson player of his side to could find no player on the other side. A result much back-passing was done, always Jamesville goal.

Speth boys played a consistent game and were distinctly untroubled in losing with the good looking work. Their guard line was against the open style of Samson.

Samson started for the Samson team with three field goals. He had an uncanny eye for free throws, making six. Gabbie was the Madison highlight.
